Gazette Is Threatened With Boycott

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — In a front-page editorial the Arkansas Gazette reported today that an anonymous segregationist group was threatening the newspaper's advertisers with a large-scale boycott.

Opponents of racial integration have attacked the Gazette often because of its editorial position in the Little Rock school integration controversy.

The newspaper, Arkansas' largest daily, also has been sharply criticized by Gov. Orval Faubus on numerous occasions.

Faubus once charged that the Gazette had a plan to send a psychiatrist to his press conference because he said it questioned his sanity.

The Gazette reproduced a letter which it announced was sent to many business firms in Little Rock this week.

The letter, signed "an indignant group," said preparations were being made for a massive crusade against stores which advertised in the Gazette.

"There is a rising tide of race feeling—in fact a revolution is being waged in the South and Little Rock," the letter said. "Your store and all stores that advertise in the Arkansas Gazette will be placed on one side or the other."

The letter said the Gazette had "played a leading role in breaking down our segregation laws, destroying time honored traditions that have made up our Southern way of life, and at last, bringing upon the people of Little Rock the most insufferable outrage ever visited upon an American city."

At another point, the letter said: "As we move into an election year, with the stirred emotions that a political campaign always brings, and the governor castigating the Gazette before wild and cheering audiences—care will be taken that (name of firm) is identified as a Gazette supporter."

The Gazette said it had removed the name of the firm which received the letter that was reproduced.

In accompanying comment, the newspaper termed the letter "a vicious and deliberate distortion of the position of the Arkansas Gazette."

The editorial said the Gazette had never advocated integration and had never called for breaking down of segregation laws.

"On the contrary," the editorial continued, "the Gazette has consistently supported every legal effort to maintain the racial pattern of segregation, and will continue to do so."

Assures U. S. Soon to Launch Missiles at Will

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon missiles director William M. Holaday told investigating senators today this country will be able to launch large satellites whenever it wants to do so.

But Holaday told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee he could not go into detail at its public hearing because "it would be helpful to the Russians" to know exact U.S. plans.

Edwin L. Weist, counsel for the subcommittee, asked Holaday about this statement Holaday made in a public speech before the American Rocket Society Dec. 5.

"We have hardware today which is easily capable of launching large satellites. We will be able to have large satellites whenever we want them."

"This is true," Holaday said. "I would like to amplify that in executive session."

Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) asked Holaday why he could not amplify his remarks publicly, wondering if the Russians know, Holaday replied, "It would help them considerably to know our plans."

Johnson assured him the subcommittee would hear his detailed testimony in secret and that it would be screened for possible publication later.

Holaday said that in his speech he was trying to point up a need for this country "to roll up its sleeves and go to work" to stay ahead of the Russian threat.

Holaday was called as the initial witness at the reopened hearing in case of Dr. Terling Livingston, Harvard business school professor who the subcommittee said was to testify on elimination of bottlenecks. Johnson said Livingston is ill, but will testify next week. He is expected to recommend transfer of missile and satellite development to an independent civilian agency.

Johnson, the Senate majority leader, said the United States will face a continuing "International Blackmail" by Russia unless it speeds the development of weapons of survival, and he added "We have a logjam to be broken, and the quicker it is broken the better."

Johnson said in an opening statement: "The vital necessity for speed was emphasized again this morning. The newspapers tell us that once again the Soviet has presented us with another poorly conceived threat."

"We have entered a period of international blackmail on a scale never before practiced in history. That period will continue until once again the United States is in the lead on technology."

He said the series of hearings opened today will get the views of the three armed services "who have the actual responsibility for developing the weapons of survival."

Communist Greeks Stone Americans

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Bombs rocked American areas of Greece three times today, slightly injuring a U.S. Air Force man and a Greek employee and starting a fire that destroyed the U.S. Information Service library.

Some sources blamed Communists for what official quarters described as acts of terrorism.

Others speculated that the bombings might have been in reply to a U.N. speech Tuesday by U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. He opposed a Greek resolution that in effect favored union with Greece to the British colony of Cyprus.

The first two explosions were at Athens airport. The alien and the Greek employee of the Air Force were investigating the first blast when the second one caught them.

The names of the injured were not announced immediately.

New Cotton Techniques Aid the Weevil

MEMPHIS (AP) — Today's discouraging word for cotton farmers is that techniques developed to grow bigger crops also lends aid and comfort to an old enemy — the boll weevil.

H. G. Johnston of the National Cotton Council told about it at the Beltwide Cotton Production Conference, which has drawn about 800 delegates from 18 states.

Irrigation and heavy fertilization stimulate plant growth, rapid fruiting and extend the growing period into late season. That's one side of the coin. The other is not so bright.

"In general, this also furnishes an abundant food supply for boll-weevils going into hibernation," said Johnston. "It means they are well fed, fat, vigorous and in a better condition to survive the winter."

Johnston said official records show a good many more weevils manage to reach the hibernation stage nowadays — and more of them live until spring.

On the average, he said, it's estimated about two and half times as many weevils emerged healthy and hungry during the spring of the past 10 years as during the spring of the previous 10.

Johnston urged cotton men not to rely on chemical warfare alone, but to make a determined effort to destroy cotton stalks soon after harvest. Weevils like to hibernate in stalks.

On the subject of chemical pest poisons, a U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologist said the unpleasant discovery that pests can develop an immunity to insecticides caused a tremendous change in thinking on insect control programs.

C. F. Ramseyer of Beltsville, Md., said the discovery spurred basic boll weevil research and more efficient poisons are likely in the near future — maybe next year.

Soviet Army on the Alert, Moscow Warns

By ROY ESSOYAN

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet military newspaper announced today — at the height of a new propaganda barrage to Western Europe — that the armed forces of the Soviet Union have been placed on a "constant alert."

While Moscow radio kept up "round-the-clock pounding at the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance meeting in Paris as a threat to world peace, the armed forces and the Soviet home audience were told defensive measures were being taken by all members of the Communist camp.

Hours after hour, Moscow radio drummed out the terms of the anti-NATO notes the Kremlin sent all United Nations members yesterday, while denouncing the Atlantic Alliance as incompatible with U.N. principles.

The propaganda drive was at an intensity rivaled in recent times only by the nervous days of the crisis over the Middle East fighting a year ago. Foreign observers here said the drive is aimed at stimulating a will for neutralism in the Western camp.

The newspaper Soviet Aviation said the Red military is on the alert throughout Eastern Europe because of "a growing threat that American aggressive circles will unleash a new war."

Bomber Crash Takes Lives of Eight Men

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Eight men, including the wing commander, died in the spectacular crash of a giant B52 bomber just at sunset yesterday. The tail gunner miraculously escaped.

The plane, loaded with jet fuel for its eight engines, was struggling to altitude on takeoff. Then the nose seemed to go straight up, the bomber tipped over on its right wing and crashed to earth.

Exploding jet fuel sent up a towering mushroom-shaped column of smoke.

The Strategic Air Command has said that some of its heavy bombers carry nuclear weapons on training missions but that there is no chance they could explode in a crash. The Air Force declined to say if an atom bomb was aboard the B52.

Col. Clarence A. Neely, 42 Sioux City, Iowa, and Rockford, Ill., commander of the 92nd Bomb Wing at Spokane's Fairchild Air Force Base, was one of the victims.

The sole survivor, Sgt. Gene I. Gray, Augusta, Kan., said he didn't know how he escaped but was "lucky to be alive."

"I was scared as hell and I'm still a little shaky," he said in a hospital room interview. He was treated for minor cuts and bruises.

A member of the crash crew said the plane appeared to be making a routine takeoff.

"Then the nose seemed to go straight up and the plane tipped over on the right wing and came straight down," he said. "It blew up."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said today more than half the federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen still on duty in the Little Rock school crisis will be released next Wednesday.

Secretary of the Army Wilmer M. Brucker said the force will be reduced from 950 to 432 because the situation "remains stable and warrants further reduction."

When President Eisenhower ordered the Army on Sept. 21 to quell resistance to a racial desegregation order by the U. S. Court in Little Rock, 10,500 Arkansas National Guardsmen were ordered into federal service and about 1,000 paratroopers of the regular Army were sent into the city.

The troop strength has been reduced in several stages since then. The last of the regular Army troops were pulled out Nov. 27.

Wednesday, the day set for the latest reduction, is the last day of school before the Christmas holiday.

Cold Relief After Heavy Crop Damage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

icy temperatures stung citrus groves and vegetable crops in the normally mild South again today, but there was a prospect of relief from the record-breaking freeze.

Some light snow spread eastward from Minnesota across parts of the Great Lakes region during the night, and snow flurries persisted in some sections of the north Atlantic states southward into Pennsylvania.

Elsewhere in the country, dry weather was the rule.

For the second straight night unseasonably low temperatures prevailed along the Atlantic Coast and readings in the teens reached through most of South Carolina and eastern Georgia.

In Florida, where the freeze was termed one of the worst of the century, the mercury settled into the 20s in northern sections and the 30s in the south.

The cold wave, which rolled out of the northern plains early in the week and across the Midwest bringing snows before hitting the South and East, had claimed at least 34 lives in one way or another.

Damage from the Florida freeze was expected to soar into the millions. Temperatures ranged down to 18 degrees at Crestview, and ice was a common sight in central and northern sections of the citrus belt.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecast considerable warming today for the Mississippi Valley eastward through the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley and went over the Southeast. However, the cold weather was expected to continue in the Northeast.

The snow area generally received light amounts, but Syracuse, N. Y., accumulated 4 inches early today, and up to 2 inches fell in parts of northern Wisconsin.

Argentina Headquarters for Girl Watchers, Inc.

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — When the worldwide organization of Girl Watchers Inc. sets up formal operations, its headquarters should be here.

True, the pastime whose devotees are legion is practiced with verve in other more publicized centers—Rome, Paris, New York. However, the Argentine male takes a back seat to no one in open, frank, unbridled admiration of the female face and form with the accent on the latter.

In New York when a pretty model in a light fitting dress swings down the avenue carrying her hat box, she has admirers. Her glance covertly at her as she passes. Some even take second glances. However for the most part the looking is done shyly and subtly. In European lands the visual approach is more direct.

But in Argentina — When a — chica — slang for baby, the cuddly ones of all ages — comes strolling down the street it is literally a traffic stopping occasion. The approaching Argentine starts looking at the limit of his vision. The usual spotting distance is 30 yards but a far-ranging young expert can focus as far as a city block.

When the feminine quarry is 25 feet away the Argentine starts his feet away the Argentine starts his TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A heavy earthquake shook west Iran today and unofficial accounts reaching Tehran said at least 50 persons perished and thousands were injured.

Tehran radio said the towns of Sahneh and Farsinak were badly damaged and that most villages in that area were ruined. Heavy snowfalls created harsh conditions for several thousand made homeless by the tremor.

First official reports reaching the capital said the quake struck at 5:15 a.m. causing casualties and damage. The center of the two-minute tremor was given as Sahneh, between Hamadan and Kermanshah.

Observatory Available to All Scientists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today announced signing of a contract providing for the first official national astronomical observatory—a facility that will be available to all U. S. astronomers.

The National Science Foundation announced it has contracted with the Association of Universities for Research in Astronomy, Inc., "for the conduct of basic research in the field of astronomy and for the construction, operation and maintenance" of the observatory to be built in Arizona.

NSF is sponsoring construction of another national observatory, at Green Bank, W. Va. That is a nonoptical project, which will use radio receivers to study the stars.

The proposed optical installation will cost about $3,100,000 and will be located at one of three Arizona sites still under consideration. NSF announced plans some time ago to sponsor the project.

Lodge Declares Soviet Talk Is No Proof

By MAX HARRELVIN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said today the United States wants to work with the Soviet Union for peace. But he declared "mere coexistence while one side tries to bury the other is not the answer."

Lodge told the U.N.'s 82-nation Political Committee he welcomed any helpful sign from the Russians, but the world could not accept one mild speech as proof that 40 years of Soviet policy had been discarded.

This was a reference to a speech last night in which Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov called for a friendship pact with the United States. Lodge said the United States welcomed the difference in tone adopted by the Russians.

He added, however, that "there is quite a gap between what he Kuznetsov says and what the Soviet Union does."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported in excellent spirits today as he prepared to fly to Paris for the NATO summit conference.

He was due to take off at 5 p. m. and those who saw him ahead of time said he was "in unusually good cheer despite the formidable task ahead of him—snoring up the North Atlantic Alliance in the face of new Russian threats and missiles—pace advances."

The White House said eight persons would accompany Eisenhower on the presidential plane, Columbine II.

Perhaps significantly, the President's personal party includes Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Dr. James R. Killian Jr., recently appointed special assistant to the President for science and technology.

Countering the recent Russian advances in the missiles field will be one of the chief problems to come before the meeting of heads of state at Paris.

The report that Eisenhower was in exceptionally good spirits came from a mid-morning visitor, Daniel Amming Chapman, now ambassador from the African Republic of Ghana, and from photographers who made pictures of the envoy with the President.

long look. It begins at the toes and sweeps slowly up to the head; then returns equally slowly to a last, penetrating, soulful glance into the lady's eyes.

To all this the chieftain pretends blissful ignorance. Her gaze remains fixed about two inches above the heads of the gaping crowd.

The inspection doesn't stop as the girl passes. The Argentine slows his walk, staring back over his shoulder for perhaps 20 paces. He then reluctantly swings his gaze forward to spot the next subject.

It is not unusual when an especially outstanding specimen goes by for the Argentine to stop dead in his tracks, do an about face and look until she is lost from sight. People are constantly bumping into each other. In fact an especially curvaceous chieftain can halt foot traffic almost completely.

The Argentine girl is something to look at.

It's too bad the stores can never fit them. There seem to be no large sizes. The chieftains must always settle for a sweater two to three sizes too small. The skirts give their limbs no freedom at all. The usual unbecoming garments are often conspicuous by their absence.

Americans here have a field day. Once they forget state-side taboos, they really enjoy the scene.

This number was followed by the fifth and sixth grade girls singing Christmas carols. Dr. L. T. Lawrence was introduced and he gave a very inspiring talk, "The Tie That Binds."

Mrs. Boone's room won the room count for the lower grades. Mrs. Sam Andrews and Mrs. Andy Campbell tied for the higher grade count.

Carols were sung by the group and Miss Mary Anita Laseter gave a short talk on the author of each carol. Several selections were sung by Miss Susan Davis accompanied at the piano by Miss Linda Gilbert.

Hostess, Mrs. Sam Huckabee and associates, Mrs. Carl Gaddis, Mrs. Wade Benefield and Mrs. Austin Hutson invited the guests into the dining room where punch, cookies and dainty sandwiches were served by Mrs. Martin Fox Jr.

What Bosh — the Man Should Give His Secretary a Lift

Dear Dorothy Dix: Do you think it's proper for a respectable married man to drive alone with his secretary to a business show? The drive would take about an hour. Would it be considered proper for them to stop off and have lunch? Would a respectable married man of character, who is in love with his wife, do this sort of thing? The man is 45, the girl 20.

Dear Clarice: This smacks of "much ado about nothing." Are you the wife of this highly respected citizen or a well-meaning friend who wants to stir up trouble?

If a man lets his secretary take a train or bus to a meeting that is to his advantage for her to attend. I'm afraid he wouldn't have the secretary very long. And a good secretary is a rare and valuable thing today. There is nothing wrong in his driving her to the show, or stopping off for lunch. Evil, in this case, is quite definitely in the eyes of the beholder. Furthermore, since the two are together most of the day, why cavil about a few hours away from the office? If they had anything in mind, believe me they'd find time to pursue it in the office. So lady, quiet your suspicions.

Dear Dorothy Dix: When Garry and I were freshmen, we went together but broke up a year later. We both were too stubborn to give in, although I'm sure we loved each other. Then Garry met Donna, and I met Pete, with whom I now go steady. Garry doesn't want me to be happy. He is trying to make me break off with Pete, though he still goes with Donna.

Dear Jill: Are you sure you aren't getting a kick out of having two men fighting over you? If you know which one you want, stick to your choice and warn the other fellow off. Making up your mind is the important point here.

Dear Dorothy Dix: From the very beginning, two years ago, Alice told me not to get serious about her, she was concerned only about her career. Although I tried to follow her advice, I have fallen desperately in love with her. Alice is 21, and it seems to me a girl that age should be thinking about marriage and a family. What's wrong with her? Do you think I keep on trying she might learn to love me later?

Dear T. S.: If you don't keep on trying, you're doomed to certain failure. If Alice wants time, let her have it. You're both young enough to spare some.

Dear Dorothy Dix: John and I have been going together for two years. We have good background, both come from respectable and religious homes and are both popular. We're mature enough to understand what love is, and are convinced we are in love. Recently we indulged in petting, our emotions got the best of us and we went all the way. We see each other about once a week, and it happens every time. Is there any way we can stop? We're both 18.

Dear Marie: I think you'll find very. No more pretending they aren't looking when they are. No more feelings of frustration at not getting a long enough look. Here they can—and do—stop, look and look and look.

"That's probably why the Argentines don't get any more done than they do," an American remarked. "They spend all their time looking at the girls."

And would you work either if you could really look at the girls?

Group Told Counties Losing U. S. Road Aid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A committee of the Arkansas Legislative Council was told today that the state's counties are losing a large share of federal funds available for county road construction because they do not have matching money.

The statement was made by a spokesman for county judges to the council's Roads and Highways Committee, which is making a study of problems relating to county road construction.

An allotment of federal money is made for county road construction, and any money not used is turned back to the state and, therefore, is not lost.

The judges said they thought construction standards for county roads should be lowered so they could use more of the federal money.

Cage Games Around the Nation By ED WILKS The Associated Press

Zone defense and free throws, a pair of weak sisters in this hurry-up-and-shoot era of college basketball, got the job done more often than not last night with Mississippi State blending the combination to stay unbeaten.

The Maroons (4-0) kept Memphis State's hot-shots outside and bagged 22 of 28 attempts from the foul line for a 56-54 victory. It was the lowest total for Memphis State in 90 games.

Wake Forest's one caused all sorts of trouble for Texas A&M and the Deacon's belted the Frog 68-46 for another impressive inter-sectional victory by an Atlantic Coast Conference team. In conference play, North Carolina State bounced back from Tuesday's upset by Clemson for an 86-73 decision over South Carolina.

West Virginia rapped Penn State 84-50. St. Francis (Pa.) making the most of 57 free throw chances, defeated St. Joseph's (Pa) 91-86. Syracuse got past Columbia 55-50. Illinois made it 3-0 with a 91-75 job on Butler, and Michigan breezed past South Dakota State 55-55.

St. Francis, which upset Duquesne the last time out, was out on 41 free throws. The other half of the Philadelphia doubleheader saw LaSalle hit 65 per cent from the floor in the first half and 62 for the game in an 82-74 victory over Lafayette. For all the sharp-shooting, however, the Explorers trailed 32-28 in field goals, using 26 of 38 foul tries to do the job.

Florida stayed unbeaten with a 71-70 victory over Florida State, Miami (Fla.) won a 73-65 decision over Louisiana State.

Penn's Cagers, shaken up by not injured when their skidded into a tree en route to the Swarthmore fieldhouse, ran up a 98-53 victory. Once beaten Connecticut was held to a 33-33 halftime tie by winless Rutgers, but pulled away with ease for a 73-64 decision. Navy, outshot from the field, gained a 91-80 victory when Delaware of Prescott. Game time is 7:30 at Yegger Gym. The Tigers are in the process of character building with a young squad that looks very promising.

Pre-Holiday Tournaments Start Tonight By ED WILKS The Associated Press

The first of the holiday tournaments begin to roll tonight, but otherwise there's no change in college basketball. North Carolina still is unbeaten.

There was one upset, of sorts, last night as Oregon State rapped Seattle 65-55, but the national champion Tar Heels rolled their 35th consecutive success with a 91-74 job on winless Furman.

Some less pretentious winning strings are on the line tonight. Five unbeaten clubs are among the 12 teams in the Birmingham Classic, the Steel Bowl and the men's.

The top game, tournamentwise, pairs Texas Christian (3-0) and Auburn (2-0) at Birmingham after Mississippi State (4-0) plays Miami of Florida (3-1).

At Cincinnati, the host Bearcats (2-0) play St. Bonaventure (3-0) and Xavier of Ohio (3-0) meets Marshall (1-1).

Iowa Pitt (2-1) vs. George Washington (0-3), and Duquesne (1-1) vs. Miami of Ohio (2-1) at Pittsburgh.

The top-ranked Tar Heels went to work early, leading 19-8 after four minutes, but had to dissolve a Furman zone defense before winning their third of the season. The champs got 31 points from senior Pete Brennan and 28 from soph Lee Shaffer.

Oregon State (3-0) stuck 6-9 Wayne Moss and 6-8 Gary Goble on 6-6 Elgin Baylor under the basket and shut off the Seattle star with 17 points. Dave Gamble, who shadowed Baylor outside, was high scorer with 18.

Louisville had it easy in an 89-65 decision over previously unbeaten Iowa with Roger Tiernan scoring 22 points. St. John's of Brooklyn (4-0) had a tussle, but defeated Washington & Lee 85-73 in the other half of the Madison Square Garden twin bill. Don Flora was the whole show for the Generals with 27 points.

A zone defense again gave Texas A&M trouble while Richmond got points from all but one of its 12 men in a 70-50 victory. Oklahoma defeated Southern Methodist 68-58 with Joe King scoring 23. Both clubs hit less than a third of their shots as Iowa State defeated Brigham Young 64-43 on the 20-point work of John Crawford and a 63-47 edge in rebounds.

Army Rocket Launching Is Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (U.P.)—The Army, successful last night in launching a modified Redstone test rocket, pushed on today with its program to put up a baby moon.

Top engineers of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency from Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., were here and the Army launching area at the Air Force Missile Test Center bristled with inter-related weapons of the Redstone family, waiting for firing.

Additional launchings may be expected almost daily until the climactic attempt to put up an instrumented satellite, and to succeed where the Navy Vanguard attempt of last Friday failed.

The Defense Department said the Redstone test vehicle launched last night was in the Army Jupiter program.

The program also includes the Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile, capable of distances of 1500 miles, and the Jupiter C re-usable rocket, which already has been fired to a distance of 3,500 miles and to an altitude of 600 miles.

Army defense officials visiting the Army Jupiter missile production plant at Huntsville were shown a sample of the Army's satellite. It will weigh about the same as the 21-pound sphere which the Vanguard project hopes eventually to put into orbit.

U. S. to Ask NATO'S Okay on Arms Plan

LONDON (U.P.)—The United States will ask its fellow NATO members next week to approve a new plan for Allied consultations on the use of nuclear weapons against aggressors.

Washington also wants to give NATO countries joint control with the United States over the triggering of nuclear missiles within their own borders. But although there would be consultations beforehand, no member nation would have the right to veto American or British use of nuclear weapons based elsewhere.

Responsible sources say these are the key proposals contained in a U. S. memorandum now being circulated among NATO members. The purpose is to reduce the apprehensiveness of the continental NATO countries—especially France—that in war the United States or Britain might unilaterally launch a nuclear attack, which would involve them.

The NATO chiefs of government, meeting in Paris Monday,

Employment Drops Million in November

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Civilian employment dropped by more than a million during November and the number of unemployed rose to 680,000, the government reported today.

Factory layoffs of nearly a quarter of a million workers, plus exceptionally bad weather which cut into outdoor work, were blamed.

The Commerce and Labor departments, in a joint release, said civilian employment fell by 1,132,000 between October and November to 64,873,000, the lowest since April of last year.

The report said that although sizable job reductions are normal in November, the changes were greater than usual this year.

The number of unemployed rose to 3,188,000, the highest November total since 1949. As a result, the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment reached 5.1 per cent, compared with 4.6 per cent, month earlier. That is the highest rate since February 1955.

will be asked to take action on the U. S. plan, said to be supported by Britain.

City Franchise Rate Set Up by State PSC

LITTLE ROCK (U.P.)—Cities will be permitted to levy a franchise tax of 80 cents to $1.07 per telephone against the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. under a formula announced yesterday by the state Public Service Commission.

Any tax above the rate set by the SC must be passed on to Southwestern Bell customers.

The order means that many smaller cities may levy more taxes without penalizing its residents, but at least one large city will either have to reduce its tax or let Southwestern pass the excess on to customers.

Little Rock now collects $75,000 per year from the telephone company and is only allowed $54,800 under the formula. Large cities such as Little Rock can levy only 80 cents per telephone; smaller cities can levy up to $1.07 without penalizing customers.

Some cities do not levy a franchise tax against the utility. The commission said it had found that discrimination exists and "will likely become more serious."

"This only way this unlawful discrimination can be eliminated is for the commission to order the company to pass on to telephone users any excess city special taxes which may be levied against the company," the commission said.

"Otherwise, if the utility ydoes not pass these excess city special taxes it will become a part of a statewide operating expense and results in loading an additional amount of operating expenses to be borne by all subscribers of the utility many of whom live elsewhere than in the taxing municipality."

The commission said, "It is not the purpose of this commission to undertake to tell the cities and towns the amount of taxes that they may levy against the utilities operating in the respective cities and towns, but it is our intent and purpose to prevent the discrimination that is so apparent in the wide variance in special city taxes."

The Arkansas Municipal recommended at its recent convention that all cities adopt ordinances requiring private utilities to pay four per cent of their gross revenues.

The commission has asked the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. to submit information on its municipal taxes. This information apparently was asked to determine if the commission should issue an order on the gas company's city taxes.

Another Big Movie Studio Breaking Up

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—What's wrong with Universal-International? Hollywood is again witnessing an agonizing sight—the breakup of a great movie studio. Last year, it was RKO, which is now virtually obliterated with the sale to Desi Arnaz.

Now U-I is undergoing a dire change. Whole departments are being cleared out of veteran employees, some of them with the studio over 30 years.

The studio has refrained from any official announcements about the exodus, but an executive commented: "We now have 32 un-released pictures, enough to last for more than a year. The studio is taking time out for a reappraisal of what kind of pictures we should make, how many and so forth."

Indications are that the studio will be shut down completely for at least six months. Some observers are asking if it will ever open again. And if so, will it ever be a fully staffed studio again?

The U-I catastrophe was a public rest of the industry figured the studio was a smart operation; it made solid, commercial movies at sensible costs and sold them efficiently.

There had been no evidence of panic within the organization. Indeed, a dividend was recently approved. The news came on the same day many studio workers got their pink slips, a cause of some bitterness.

Then what was the reason? It may have been tied in with theater business this fall, which has been disappointing. Reports also indicate Eastern banking houses have refused loans until U-I disposes of some of its present properties. With more than 30 films for release, including the last of the RKO features, U-I can afford to cease production for awhile.

But it is still brutal on the long-time employees. And it will be a shame if Universal should lapse into history. It has been a lively element in the film industry for 40 years.

Tot the amateur observer, it would appear that U-I made three errors in operation:

1. Continuing to turn out commercial products at a time when run-of-the-mill entertainment isn't selling. Class attractions are the thing today, but U-I failed to pull enough money into writing and directing. SPATULE (U.P.)—The grand tar-

2. Failure to use star power. U-I smartly invested in a talent program that produced some top stars: Rock Hudson, Tony Curtis, Audrey Murphy, etc. But these stars were largely wasted in program pictures.

McElhenny Still Likes the Backfield

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—Hugh McElhenny admits he'd prefer the backfield, but the San Francisco 49ers star says if he can be more help to the team at end, that's where he'll play.

Big Mac, long considered one of the National Football League's best running backs, was switched to end three weeks ago when injuries depleted the terminal corps.

It came as a surprise to fans, but the planners in the 49ers had figured on the move in case of emergency. The emergency came when Clyde Conner was injured against Detroit.

McElhenny said playing end wasn't too strange; he was used as a flanker in previous seasons. "It wasn't just a spur of the moment thing," declared Assistant Coach Red Hickey. "Mac had the speed we needed. A real line athlete can change positions fast and Mac did."

McElhenny received the winning touchdown pass Sunday against Baltimore. That threw the 49ers into a three-way tie with the Colts and Detroit in the National Football League's Western Conference.

Just before that he had caught a pass for a gain of 43 yards that put San Francisco into scoring position. He gained 165 yards on eight catches during the day.
